CHAIRMAN YOUNG GIVES QUINBY A BIG MAJORITY

Statements Issued By Both Chairmen Make Interesting Reading

Judge Oscar L. Young of Laconia, chairman of the Republican state committee, claims the election of Henry B. Quinby of Laconia as Governor and a general sweeping Republican victory as a result of next Tuesday's election.

In his statement given out for publication Chairman Young says:

"As the campaign draws to a close I have no hesitation in predicting for New Hampshire a grand Republican victory next Tuesday. From the first I have entertained no doubts as to local results this year. Conditions could not be more favorable than they have been framed for us in New Hampshire, and the only open question throughout the campaign has been the size of the Republican majority. I foresee success of the Taft and Sherman electors by from 15,000 to 18,000 plurality; the election of Col. Henry B. Quinby for Governor by a plurality of from 10,000 to 12,000; the re-election of Congressmen Sillway and Carrier by a plurality of from $500 to $900 each; the choice of a solidly Republican council to sit with Gov. Quinby; the election of 19 or 20 out of the 24 state senators, and a Republican majority in the House of Representatives ranging from 125 to 140.

"The few complications of the campaign have risen from local quarrels over legislative nominations which renders the size of our majority in the House of Representatives problematical above 125, which I regard as the irreducible minimum. There is no general disaffection of the state ticket and nothing to indicate that it will not get the full strength of the Republican vote. Col. Quinby's acquaintance throughout the state in business, political and social circles, among all which he is recognized

"He stands squarely upon the platform adopted by the state convention, and the sincerity of his promise to do all in his power to have it enacted into law is doubted by no one. He made a clean campaign for the nomination and has made a dignified canvass for election, without pronouncing impossibilities. On the other hand, the cheap, ill-advised advertisements and attacks of the Democratic state committee have aroused the indignation of decent Democrats, many of whom will quietly vote for him. I believe that he will carry every county handsomely, and it will not surprise me if it takes five figures to state his margin."

John B. Jameson of Andover, chairman of the Democratic state committee, declared that Clarence E. Carr would be elected and that his party would have an increased representation in both branches of the legislature after the voting on Tuesday.

"As is universally known," said Chairman Jameson, "we in New Hampshire have been for years under the domination of an all-powerful railroad-political combine that has selected the state officials, made or unmade our laws and carried out its own will generally."

A Small Motor Boat Becomes Disabled Through Fouling A Rope With Her Propeller

A small motor boat containing three men had a rough time of it up river Sunday afternoon. There was nasty chop running caused by the high northwest wind, and the breaking tide and the little boat was making heavy weather of it. When off South Elliot the propeller became fouled with a rope and all efforts to clear it were fruitless. Finally the occupants set up a white cloth on a pole as a flag of distress.

There were no boats in the vicinity and it was necessary to send to Kittery after a motor boat to go to their assistance. In the mean while the disabled boat drifted alone to the Dover Point bridge, where overtaken and rescued.

LOST THEIR FIRST GAME

High School Football Team Fall Down Before Sanborn Seminary

The High school football team lost their first game of the season on Saturday, when they played the Sanborn Seminary at Kingston. The local boys were a little over confident after their series of wins, but they found a tough proposition in the Seminary team, who were heavier and played them to a stand still and finally won the game by a score of five to nothing. The original schedule called for a game with Somersworth High, but this was changed and the Sanborn team taken on.

The High school team played a good game and at times were close to scoring, but each time the heavy Seminary team held and secured the ball.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD

From the showing made this year by both Annapolis and West Point the football teams of these two schools must be considered among the big teams of the country. On the Navy team Ralph Cobb of Kittery, a grandson of Calvia Hayes, played right end, on Saturday against the Indians and played a fine game. He was formerly on the Trape Academy team.

Dartmouth plays the rest of her big games next Saturday, when they will meet Princeton at New York. From the outlook it should be a close game with the odds a little in favor of Dartmouth. The following Saturday Dartmouth plays Harvard and the wearers of the green should win.

Harvard will play the Carlisle Indians on Saturday and a comparison of the scores of the games between the Indians and Annapolis and Harvard favors the Indians. They always did give Harvard a good game and next Saturday will be no exception.

The big game of the year for the football enthusiasts of this city will be the Dartmouth-Harvard game Nov. 14, and a large number of us here will attend.

From the football scores of the big teams on Saturday it would look as though Dartmouth had an equal chance to win all of her games this year as any of the big colleges. The only big team the wearers of the green do not play is Yale, but there will be a chance for comparison as both Harvard and Princeton play Yale, and Dartmouth plays them.

CHECKLIST NOTICE

The Board of Registrars of Voters of the City of Portsmouth hereby give notice that they will be in session at the council chamber at City Hall in said city on the following dates viz: Sept. 22, 25, 26, Oct. 2, 6, 9, 13, 15, 20, 22, and in the following hours from 9 a.m. to 12 m., from 2 to 3, 7:30 to 9 p.m., for the purpose of making up and certifying the checklists of the several wards in said city, to be used at the election to be held Nov. 3, 1908.

The said board will also be in session at the same place on election day, Nov. 3, 1908, from 8 a.m. to 12 m. and from 1 to 4 p.m., for the purpose of granting certificates to those legal voters whose names are omitted from the lists.

Voters must bear in mind that it is their personal duty to see that their names are on the lists before presenting themselves at some meeting of this board.

THE NEXT GREAT ATTRACTION

The attraction at the Farnsworth Music Hall on Friday will be George M. Cohan's latest musical drama, "Fifty Miles from Boston," which will be presented under the management of Cohan and Harris.

Versatile Miss Beatrice Golden will appear at the head of a big company

Miss Gray G. King in "50 Miles from Boston"

which includes such favorite stars as John Sparte, Charles Crampton, Harry Munro, Bruce Atkinson, George London, E. Bloom, Ward Bond, May Marquet, Louise Currier, Charlotte Gray, and Beatrice Harris. The scenes are laid in the little town of Brookfield, Mass., about fifty miles from Boston, and as Mr. Cohan has stated a number of attractions there. It is known, however, he writes, that play scenes in the novel, the trials and tribulations of the young, volatile personality of the girl, will be the chief interest of the audience. The author of the play, Mr. Cohan, has recently taken a lead in the dramatic field, and his success in the theater has been marked. THE DEVIL

The most discussed play in the last few days in the world today is Franz Mehring's epic, "The Devil," written by the Hungarian emigre, John W. Savage, now residing at the Garden Theatre, New York. The audience that buy the tickets of this company pay high prices to see it, and the play has created a sensation throughout the country.

SUCCOR ON THE SEA

United States Revenue Cutter Service Has Two New Vessels

Two vessels have just been added to the fleet of the United States Revenue Cutter Service which will prove of great interest and importance to navigators and to shipwrecked seafarers throughout the world. One of these is the steamship ocean-going destroyer "Shoemish," the other the relief tug "Shoemish," the latter to be stationed at the entrance of the Strait of Juan de Fuca, in the north Pacific ocean. These craft have been designed in every detail for the special service to which they are intended to perform and are well-known throughout the world to make them to be as capable types of their class as it is possible to devise. A large part of the work of revenue cutters is the destruction or rescue of shipwrecked sailors and officers in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. TAFT IS SURE OF BAY STATE.

Some Doubt, However, as to the Governorship.

DEMOCRATS NOW UNITED.

Old Wounds Have Healed and Efforts Will Be Made to Get Out Full Party Vote--Registration Not Up to Expectations--Glance at the Situation In Other New England States--Apathy in Northern Portion.

Boston, Nov. 2.—With the Republicans conceded to be in complete command of the situation in Massachusetts on the national contest, interest in tomorrow's battle in this state centres on the size of the vote and Mr. Taft's plurality.

Evaluating the abnormal vote of 1896, when McKinley carried the state by 63,000, the average Republican plurality in Massachusetts since 1872 in a presidential canvass has been about 47,000. Four years ago President Roosevelt won the state by 92,000 in a total vote of about 450,000, with a registration of about 563,000. This year the registration has been scarcely more than 1 percent over that of 1904, or about 560,000, and it is estimated on this basis that about 450,000 voters will avail themselves of the right of suffrage.

Although Taft will carry the state, according to all political observers, Mr. Draper's contest with Mr. Vahey for governor is somewhat more in doubt. The Republican managers took for the election of Draper by a substantial plurality, while the Democratic leaders state that Vahey's election is not improbable. The Democrats are more united this year than for some time, and, while the campaign has not been fought with the vigor which characterized former contests, a split which took place in the party last year has apparently been healed and every effort will be made to poll the full party strength in Tuesday's contests. As Draper in his second campaign for the lieutenant-governor had a particularly hard contest against the Democratic aspirant, E. G. Brown, and only won by a narrow margin, his opponents this year have attacked his record and attitude regarding labor, and there will be considerable interest in the election as to the size of the vote and Draper's popularity in the cities where manufacturers' interests are prominent.

The registration in the thirty-three cities of the state has not come up to expectations and has fallen off from that of 1904 in Boston and eight other cities, although showing an increase of 30,000 between 1900 and 1904. The registration in the 321 towns shows only a slight increase over 1904.

Since 1900, when the congressional lines were rearranged, the Massachusetts congressional delegation has stood eleven Republicans and three Democrats. The Republican leaders claim that two of the Democratic congressmen, Mr. O'Connell in the Tenth and Mr. Peters in the Eleventh, will be defeated and that the delegation will show only one Democratic congressman. The Democratic managers, however, assert that both O'Connell and Peters will be re-elected and that the party candidates have chances for election in the Fourth and Fifth congressional districts. Both sides concur that the balance of the delegation will remain intact.

There is no senatorial contest at stake in the election of the incoming legislature, and it is regarded as probable that the ratio between the two parties, with the Republicans well in the majority, will remain about the same.

IN RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 2.—The campaign in this state was practically brought to a close Saturday night. The present outlook is believed to be about the same as in 1904, when Potter (Rep.) won the contest for governor over Garvan (Dem.) by about 800 plurality, giving the Republicans control of the executive office after two years of Democratic rule.

Other advice reaching Willemstad again report the serious illness of Castro. There was some talk of a trace of poison having been found in his food. The residents of Caracas and other Venezuelan cities look for the blockade to be inaugurated by the Dutch warships this week.

Alarm is increasing among the residents of the port of La Guaira in view of the extensive military preparations which have been going on to meet the threatened action of the Netherlands government.

AN ALLEGED FIREBUG.

A documentary matter continues to go through the mails, indicating that the attack and counter-attack upon certain candidates is being kept up. Chairman Kenney of the Republican state committee says the state will be 25,000 for Taft and 15,000 for Llyle. Chairman Comstock of the Democratic state committee goes to the other extreme by predicting a landslide in the state for the state ticket and the winning of Connecticut for Bryan.

MAY VOTE AT STATE HOUSE.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 2.—But little interest is being shown in this state in the election tomorrow, which will be for presidential electors only, and the indications are that the four Republican electors will be chosen by about the usual majority of from 27,000 to 30,000.

Under a bill passed by the legislature last Friday, all members of that body, judges of the supreme court, members of the bar and all other persons whose duties are at the capital, are permitted to cast their votes at the state house instead of at their respective places of residence.

LICENSES QUESTION UPPERMOST.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 2.—There have been no new developments as regards the political situation in this state. The chief interest has centred in the license question. All the towns in the state vote on the question of local option tomorrow and meetings under the auspices of the no-license faction were held yesterday in churches all over the state. Both Democrats and Republicans claim the election of their candidate for governor.

BURGARS MAKE BIG HAUL.

Overlooked Diamonds Worth $1500 Which Were Within Their Reach.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Safe-breakers entered the jewelry store of Samuel J. Balin at 1630 Washington street sometime early Sunday and, smashing the safe with nitro-glycerine, placed in holes drilled in the back, secured $1000 worth of jewelry and made their escape. A bag containing diamonds valued at $15,000 was overlooked by the thieves. The show cases were stripped of watches and jewelry.

Two white men, one believed to be a professional safe-breaker known to the police, and a negro man seen about the store the past week and the police are seeking the two as suspects.

CASTRO'S DECREE IS NOT REVOKED.

Time Limit Set By the Dutch Government Has Expired.

Willemstad, Nov. 2.—The Netherlands government fixed Nov. 1 as the limit of time for Venezuela to revoke the decree of President Castro, issued on May 14, prohibiting the transhipment of goods for Venezuelan ports at Curaçao. Castro has refused to revoke this decree, but as yet, so far as is known here, The Netherlands government has not decided upon definite action.

The opinion is held among naval officers here that no direct steps will be taken within a week. Battleship Jacob Van Heemskerk and protected cruiser Friesland, which are now in this port, still have on board all the superannuated equipments which would be discarded in time of war.

Advices from Maracaibo state that it was reported on Oct. 24 that Castro had ordered the mobilization of 50,000 troops to be ready Nov. 2. Two days later there were rumors in Maracaibo that General Bolívar, who previously had been charged with leading a revolutionary movement in Venezuela, was crossing the frontier with 20,000 men from Cúcuta, Colombia. No further account of this movement could be learned because mail and telegraphic communications with Cúcuta were suspended the following day.

Other advices reaching Willemstad again report the serious illness of Castro. There was some talk of a trace of poison having been found in his food. The residents of Caracas and other Venezuelan cities look for the blockade to be inaugurated by the Dutch warships this week.

Alarm is increasing among the residents of the port of La Guaira in view of the extensive military preparations which have been going on to meet the threatened action of the Netherlands government.

Oldtown, Me., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Blanche Tourtellotte, aged 50, who works in the wooden mills, was arrested on the charge of arson, the warrant alleging that she set fire to the summer cottage of Charles H. Gray of this place at Northport camp-ground last Thursday, causing the destruction of five buildings and a loss of $15,000. Mrs. Tourtellotte occupied apartments in this city in a block owned by Gray and spent last summer at Northport camp-ground.

SAILORS ARE DISAPPOINTED.

Amoy, Nov. 2.—Two thousand men of the second squadron of the American fleet were allowed to land yesterday and were served at the reception grounds with an European luncheon and a Chinese dinner. The men, however, are showing great disappointment because they are not permitted to leave the grounds, restrictions having been placed upon them because the authorities do not believe that the city is yet free from cholera and plague.

where come reports of Republican defection from Governor Hughes, but the Republican leaders do not place very much stock in these and say that whatever votes Hughes loses in his own party will be more than offset by gains from among the Democrats and independent voters.

The Democratic leaders say they have been confident of victory from the very start of the campaign.

The Independence League party, managed by W. R. Hearst, has a complete state ticket in the field, and its leaders have been concentrating practically all of their fire on Mr. Chandler, who was Hearst's running mate two years ago, and there is some interest in the strength the new party will show.

EXODUS OF VOTERS.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Such an exodus from the national capital of voters entitled to the right of franchise in various states has not been known in any political campaign since that of 1860 as has been taking place in the last four or five days. A careful canvass of the several executive departments shows up to noon Saturday that approximately 3700 voters had already gone to their homes and that many hundreds more left Washington Saturday night and yesterday. It is estimated that 1500 more will leave for nearby states today.

President Roosevelt, Secretary Loeb and several White House attaches who hold voting residences in New York will leave Washington tonight. All members of the cabinet now are in their respective states except Secretaries Wright and McFall. The former failed to register in Tennessee and the latter is confined to his residence by a serious illness.

The unusual number of government employees who this year are embracing the opportunity to cast their ballots indicates the intensity of interest taken in Washington in the result of tomorrow's election.

Washington in the campaign of Speaker Cannon. Telegrams from the speaker to friends here express confidence in the result of tomorrow's balloting, just as yesterday he himself was in the electoral college. As only 212 votes are necessary to elect, both candidates are fighting on wide margins for their respective mandates.

While the national chieftain believes that all has been done that can be done to elect their chiefs, the candidates themselves will continue in the fight until practically the last minute. Taft, after spending yesterday in Buffalo, went this morning to Cleveland, where he will speak this afternoon, and will then go to Youngstown, where he speaks tonight, hurrying thence to Cleveland to vote and learn the results of the election.

Mr. Bryan intends to put in relay campaigning in northwestern Kansas and will be at Lincoln this evening for a homecoming demonstration.

At Republican headquarters it was asserted that Mack's estimate of 333 votes for Bryan had been expected in view of the same claims made earlier in the campaign. It was further said that Mack had included in his list states that were practically conceded by state leaders to be Republican.

Mr. Mack declared that "the only thing that can defeat Mr. Bryan is the corrupt use of money." He said he had sent his last instructions to state chairman to get out their vote early and to see that it was fairly counted.

"We are through," said Hitchcock "our fight is won. It was made on the planks agreed upon at the beginning of the campaign."

Mr. Hitchcock announced that there had ceased to be any doubt as to Republican success in such states as Indiana, Ohio and New Jersey, all claimed by Mack—and it was added by a member of his staff that the Republican national committee is as sure of New York as it is of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Mack said that his belief is that Bryan and Kern will receive 333 votes in the electoral college based on reports received from state chairman and from private sources. State chairman never has predicted that Bryan will receive more than 40,000 plurality in the state and that Chandler will get more than 160,000.

The Democratic national committee bases its belief that Bryan will be elected on the following four reasons, which have been incorporated into a statement by Chairman Daniels of the literary bureau:

"Bryan will be elected because the Democracy today presents a unite front. Further, the Democratic party will be augmented by thousands of Republicans dissatisfied with the mistakes of twelve years of Republican administration.

"This army of voters will be further strengthened by a new force in the American politics—the labor vote. Assuming there were to be a strict party line-up at election, the labor vote itself would turn the scales to Democratic success. The labor party has put all its eggs in the Democratic basket and it intent to save them.

"Mr. Bryan himself has gained wonderful strength in the last few years in all parts of the country and thousands of voters who neither understand him nor like him now place their absolute trust in him and his policies.

The Democratic national committee has brought all the elements of the party together. It has the labor vote, and its remarkable invasions of strength from the Republican ranks, together with Mr. Bryan's strength with the masses, are the reasons why this national election will turn to the Democracy."

Mr. Mack, in a statement last night, again attacked the Republican party for not immediately making their campaign contributions public.

The New York campaign is practical, at an end. Both Democratic and Republican state leaders claim to be confident of success. Close political observers who have canvassed the state from end to end, however, frankly admit that they are in doubt and that there is no positive way in which the result can be forecasted. From everywhere come reports of Republican defection from Governor Hughes, but the Republican leaders do not place very much stock in these and say that whatever votes Hughes loses in his own party will be more than offset by gains from among the Democrats and independent voters.

THE EMPEROR'S INTERVIEW

Radical, Liberal and Socialist Newspapers Aroused Over Shifting of Responsibility For Note Which Has Infuriated People of Other Nations

•••Distrust of the German Foreign Office Is Greatly Increased.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Chancellor Von Buelow's position appears to be almost untenable. Far and wide throughout the empire the newspapers of all parties discuss with varying degrees of mystery, amazement and regret the government's explanation of how what purported to be eminently important utterances of the emperor, affecting three great powers, passed through the hands of the chancellor and a long line of foreign office officials, without seemingly having been considered by any of them or even read by most of those responsible for the delicate foreign relations.

The emperor fully concedes Prince von Buelow's part in the affair, but the chancellor's authority and prestige with the country have been so shaken that he may again ask the emperor to relieve him.

All the Radical, Liberal and Socialist journals utilize the event to urge upon the country a demand for a ministry responsible to the parliament and the people. Instead of the continuance of ministerial responsibility to the crown alone.

It is learned that the emperor handed the manuscript of the interview which appeared in the London Daily Telegraph and the authorship of which is still undisclosed to Baron Von Jenisch, who was attached to his entourage while the emperor was absent from the capital a short time ago, as the representative of the foreign office, with the direction to send it to Von Buelow.

The chancellor described the note from Von Jenisch, which accompanied the manuscript, as referring to the enclosure as an article, not as an interview, so that the chancellor did not consider it necessary to give it his personal attention.

The manuscript consisted of a number of small manuscript sheets, the handwriting being difficult to decipher, and the chancellor referred it to Herr von Mueller, the minister at The Hague, who was acting as the chancellor's private secretary.

The latter, in his turn and without examining the document, sent it to the foreign office, where, in the absence of Herr Von Schenck, the secretary for foreign affairs, it was read by subordinate officials, who did not attach importance to its contents, and returned through the proper channels without further examination until transmitted by one of the imperial secretaries to England, where, as The Tagesschreiber Rundschau, one of the newspapers that is read in court, aristocratic and military circles, described it: "He entered gayly into the world, infatuating the French, Russians, Dutch and Japanese, exciting bitterness and nervous irritation on the part of our own people and undermining our neighbors' belief in our reliability."

The whole subject is likely to come up for debate in the Reichstag, which will resume on Wednesday.

It is reported that Herr Von Schenck, secretary for foreign affairs, has also tendered his resignation in connection with the recent publication in a London newspaper of the emperor's interview.

AS VIEWED IN LONDON.

London, Nov. 2.—The London papers comment ironically upon what they describe as "ingenious semi-official explanations" from Berlin concerning the emperor's published interview and consider that the effect of these will be greatly to increase distrust of the German foreign office and its methods and probably lead to still greater ill-feeling between Great Britain and Germany.

The Daily Telegraph gives no further explanation of the affair, while the Berlin correspondent declares, involving Germany in the greatest domestic crisis she has experienced since the dismissal of Bismarck.

ADVANCE IN TELEPHONY.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Examinations by naval experts in wireless telephony to the sound which will carry the greatest distance, develop that the steam siren, under seventy-two pounds of steam pressure, will emit a blast which may be heard forty miles. Now comes the steam whistle, the sound of which is carried twenty miles. Among the softer sounds which carry a great distance is the whistling boat, which has frequently been heard here.

CAPTAIN HAS SKIPPED.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 2.—Suspected of having engaged in smuggling Chinese from Mexico to the United States, schooner Freddie W. Atton of Boston is detained here by customs officials. Captain Daly, master of the vessel, disappeared when the investigation began. The Atton sailed from Boston Sept. 1, steering straight for the Mexican coast, remaining off Vera Cruz for about fifteen days and then proceeding to Pensacola. The vessel carries a crew of twelve men.

KOREAN TROUBLE ENDED.

Seoul, Nov. 2.—The thirteen division of the Japanese army, after having been on duty here since the outbreak of hostilities with the Koreans, is embarking for Japan. This action is taken as significant of the termination of the trouble.

THE WEATHER.

Albany, Tuesday, Nov. 3. Sun-sights—6:20; sets—4:35. Moon sets—4:21 a. m.

High water—6:30 a. m.; 7 p. m.

Fair and warmer weather is indicated for New England.

CAB DRIVER KILLED.

Boston, Nov. 2.—Dr. M. Breman, aged 53, was almost instantly killed by being struck from the seat of a busman's cab he was driving by an electric car. The seat of the busman was cut cleanly off by the car. In the car were Mrs.

"WHOSE OX IS GORED?"

The Maine legislature will have to struggle this coming winter, with a general bridge bill, by which the state would undertake to relieve the towns of all the care of bridges. There are some very influential legislators in favor of the proposed bill, but they are likely to have a hard job finding the 600 through them to make an off-hand transfer of the whole lot to the state. The state highway commissioner's investigation shows 6,882 public bridges more than six feet in length of which sixty-six are each more than 400 feet long. Probably immediate demands for new bridges and rebuilding of old bridges would not fall much short of a thousand bridges the first year that a general bridge law was in effect.

One of the peculiar things about this proposed general bridge law, is that the most active legislative support has come from the Democratic party. That party has always, in Maine, at least, been making a great outcry against concentration and the destroying of the people's right of local self government. Yet the leaders of that party advocate this radical destruction of local rights to manage an important part of the highways.

In this matter of centralization, the Maine Democrats have in the last few years advocated many more strenuous measures than were ever put forward by the Republicans? If all those proposed Democratic laws were enacted into statutes there would not be much use in maintaining municipal governments in Maine for they would have nothing to do. Somewhere the Democrats don't seem to grasp the essential legal similarity between a Sturgis commission for the state enforcement of the liquor law and a bridge commission to take the bridges away from local management and control.

TAFT AND QUINBY

When you come to vote, you will want to think of the sterling character of the Republican candidates for President and governor.

Taft is the man who said that he could not hit a man who was down and lived up to his statement despite the tremendous clamor for him to act otherwise.

Quinby has declared that he will condemn no man unheard, and who is ready to act in accordance with the proven conditions in any case.

Both men are brainy, cool-headed and acquainted with the business of the national and state governments.

Taft is a desirable man for president and Quinby is a desirable man for governor.

In looking after the welfare of nation and state, it will be well to vote the straight Republican ticket this year.

BIRDS' EYE VIEWS

What will happen to the paper mills of New England if the corn-stalk paper process proves a success? Many people are rather anxiously asking that question. The answer is easy if the right of history is to prove it true. It is the same as all of the big newspapers of the country, who have been making a close study of the situation. On the other hand the most radical of the democratic papers do not make such big claims as Mr. Taft.

Always a good sign as to which way the wind is blowing is the betting odds that have been offered, and so far from all parts of the country these odds must be discouraging to the Democrats. The odds offered are 7 to 1 on Taft, with a very few little Bryan money to start, and on the New York and Chicago exchange it has remained at about 5 to 1. In New York state the betting is favoring Hughes more and more, and where even money was offered at the election the Republicans entered the Portsmouth bar without the slightest difficulty, a thing impossible in many of our Atlantic harbors—Rochester Record.

BOTH SIDES MAKING BIG CLAIMS

Campaign Practically Closed And Everything Favors Republican Victory

Most Conservative Estimates Of The Big City Papers Give Taft A Good Lead In Electoral Vote

With but twenty-four hours until the final story of the election of 1908, both sides are making big claims of the result of the vote for President. Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican committee claims that Taft will get 32% of the electoral votes, while on the other hand Chairman Mack of the Democratic National Committee just as confidently issues a statement that Bryan will get 33% of the electoral college, and be elected. There is no half way atom! Chairman Mack is claiming everything in sight, but from all indications he will have a rude awakening and his ability to forecast the future ruined, when the votes are counted on Tuesday night.

Chairman Hitchcock has many supporters in his estimate, in fact it is practically the same as all of the big newspapers of the country, who have been making a close study of the situation. On the other hand the most radical of the democratic papers do not make such big claims as Mr. Taft.

Taken as a whole everything points to a big victory for the Republicans all over the country and the election of William H. Taft as the next President of the United States.

The campaign practically finished on Saturday night, when both of the leaders closed as strenuous a campaign as has been carried on by any candidates for years. Both were tired but game, and both issued statements that they were confident of the result. Mr. Bryan as usual being of the absolutely sure kind. The Standard Oil statement favoring Mr. Taft is compared by Senator Lodge, to the kiss of Judas, and it is openly charged that it was issued with this effect hoped for, that the Standard Oil are ready in line with Democrats and hope to defeat Mr. Taft.

In this state not even the most enthusiastic Democrat is but willing to admit that Mr. Taft will carry the state by a big majority, but they have some slight hopes of electing Mr. Carr for governor, a hope that the Republicans claim will be dashed to the ground.

THE MAINE FOOTBALL TEAM WON

Defeated the Team from the Marietta on Saturday Afternoon at the Navy Yard

The football team from the battleship Maine defeated the team from the Marietta on Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 0. The battleship team were the better team in all departments of the game and used the forward pass and outside kick effectively. The punting of Douglas, full back for the Maine was a feature of the game and his playing was of the best.

ELIOT

The members of the History Club; South Eliot consider themselves fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. Charles W. Gray, the well known baritone singer of Portsmouth, to deliver the first in a course of six lectures and concerts. Mr. Gray will sing some old American songs and tell about the writers of them. Mrs. Joseph Wilson Hobbs will preside at the piano. This entertainment will be held in the Congregational Church on Thursday evening, Nov. 5, at 7 o'clock.

The ladies of the Congregational society will have their annual sale in the second week of December.

APPEALS FROM TAX

American Express Company Trying to Evade It in Massachusetts

The American Express Company has taken an appeal from the tax assessors of the Massachusetts tax commissioners and makes the point that it is an incorporated association of individuals organized under the common law, that its $2,332,231 of property only $16,023 is located in Massachusetts and that the tax of $10,073 levied by the commissioners is excessive and unconstitutional because computed upon the gross earnings received in the state whether for intra-state or inter-state business, so that the company is in effect taxed upon the property located without the state.

In levying the tax, the tax commissioners deducted from the $1,231,559 of gross business received by the company in Massachusetts the $16,023 of property which the company owns in that state, leaving the net amount upon which the excise tax was assessed $203,573.

The appeal is signed by Ropes, Gray & Gorham, counsel for the American Express company, and sets forth substantially that an asset has in effect been levied upon the American Express Company in respect to physical tangible property situated without the state for purposes of taxation.

The appeal also states that it was the duty of the tax commissioners to ascertain the value of the property owned by the company in the state of Massachusetts, and to have deducted the fair cash value of the entire amount of the capital stock of the company outside of the state.

The sum which should have been deducted is set at $22,491,559.00, and it is maintained that this sum has been improperly taxed.

The polls are open on Tuesday in this city from six a. m. to four p. m. and it is ample time to give everybody a chance to vote. The full republican ticket is worthy of their closest inspection.

The Ladies of the Daughters of King's Daughters, connected with the North Church are making big plans for their first big supper at the Parish house on Wednesday evening.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF FROM INDIGESTION

Take Some Diapepsin now and All Stomach Misery and Dyspepsia will vanish in Five Minutes. Rid yourself of This Misery Forever

There would not be a case of Indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in Diapepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest toss or discomfort, and relieve the severest acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Page's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures Indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, Belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Bloating and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest, and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50-cent case today from your druggist and make the world happy? Absenteeism from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and, besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapepsin, which will always, either at daytime or during night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

SHIPPING MEN INTERESTED

In Hearing to Consider Revision of United States Navigation Laws

Bath, Me., Nov. 2.—In Washington next Friday there will be a hearing of men interested in shipping before the special commission appointed last summer by the President to consider the revision of the United States laws relating to navigation.

Among proposed new laws governing shipping is one relating to the number of able seaman vessels of different tonnage must carry and in this law Bath and several towns, interested in the sailing and building of sailing vessels, are decidedly interested.

As one Bath gentleman observed, "If that becomes a law it will wipe Bath off the map."

The law proposed would place a burden upon coasting vessels which shipping men say would quite prohibit the building of large six-masters, like the "Eleanor Percy," for example, because of the great increase in the cost of sailing such.

Without going into technicalities, the law mentioned proposes to triple the number of able seamen some classes of seafarers now carry and on others double the crew, so that, in a big six-master like the "Eleanor Percy," a small army of seamen by law would be put on board for the owners to carry and pay.

This is not the whole of the matter for the law contemplates making obligatory the enlargement of the sailors' accommodations on sailing vessels, so that the forward houses would cover the foreward hatchway and oblige cargoes to be discharged ashore, necessitating wheeling and other labor between decks and add largely to the cost of both loading and unloading cargo.

Moreover, it is proposed to obligate every engineer of a double engine to have a license.

The sensible purpose is to oblige vessels to make their crews working time daily eight hours and the law is being pushed by the maritime union, but behind the whole plan is the steamship men, so the Bath builders claim engaged in an attempt to drive out the schooners and gobble all the freight.

In Boston on Thursday the matter will probably be considered by the Eastern Seaboard Association.

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are, by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing, of course, that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are, for that reason, the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has followed:

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Cooper Saturday and a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. French joined the First church Sunday morning. Mr. French on confession of faith, Mrs. French by letter. Harold T. French was baptized.

Stewart E. Rowe has recovered from an attack of pneumo-pneumonia and has resumed his law study again.

Mary E. Cade is spending a period in Pittsfield, where she will remain until after Thanksgiving.

A very enjoyable Holloween party was tendered the young ladies at Robinson Seminary by Principal Harland M. Hishee Saturday evening. The affair was given in the seminary chapel, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves and evergreens. The hours were passed in the playing of Holloween games and dancing, music for which was rendered by Harold Jenkins' pianoforte.

E. H. Baker, end on last year's football eleven at the academy, is this season playing a fast game on the Cornell freshman eleven at the same position.

Practice runs have been held weekly all the fall, and it is expected that a large number of starters will go over the course which is about three miles.

At the regular meeting of the G. L. Gould Library society at the academy Saturday evening the subject for debate was "Resolved, That a material increase in the United States navy is undesirable."

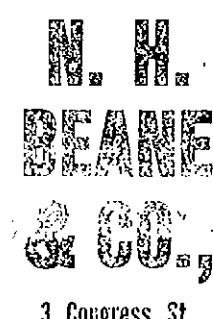

Prof. Frederick J. E. Woodbridge of the department of philosophy at Columbia gave an interesting address before the academy Christian Fraternity Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Black of Brentwood who were recently married at Newmarket, engaged about 200 of their Exeter friends at their home on Saturday night. The majority of the party was composed of employees of the cutting room of the Gale shoe factory while Mr. Black was formerly employed. An excellent supper was served and a gay, informal evening was passed. Mr. and Mrs. Black were presented with a parlor lamp and center table.

Despite chilling weather Guy A. Ham, the speaker at the closing annual rally, held in the town hall on Saturday night, received a warm welcome. CHAIRMAN YOUNG GIVES QUINBY A BIG MAJORITY last aroused the public conscience and the first strong demonstration against the powers was made two years ago.

The Republican party at that time adopted in its convention a platform embodying some of the much-needed reforms and nominated a candidate for Governor.

Many of the patriot Republican powers supporting the candidate for Governor at that time were those that had made the condition in the state so notorious, refused to accept the combination offered them in a supporting candidate on a reform platform and bolted the ticket.

Then their misdeeds that remained inaction of consequence would be passed were well founded, was proved by the fact that the Republican Legislature of 1907, failed to stand by the promises of its party platform.

These misdeeds, coincides of two years ago have aroused in the people the feeling that they have been trifled with, and this feeling has been greatly augmented by a repetition of the same performance this year at the Republican state convention, where the same influences that foiled the people two years ago again nominated their candidate for Governor and, as before, adopted a reform platform.

That the people are aroused as never before in consequence of these deceptions is unquestionable. Many of the most able and prominent men of the Republican party have openly announced their determination to vote for the Hon. Clarence E. Carr, the Democratic nominee, and we are daily receiving advices from different sections of the state of many more who for the first time in their lives will vote the Democratic ticket.

The actions of the machine manufacturers in their desperation during the last few days of the campaign in resorting to personal abuse and falsehood in the Democratic candidate, literature attacking his candidacy, have aroused the people's spirit of fair play and reacted in Mr. Carr's favor.

Any one who is at all in touch with political affairs in New Hampshire or the country at large, will realize this utter impossibility of making a prediction of any value as to size of majorities.

Based on my opinion not on my personal desire, but on authentic reports of a constantly growing tide all over the state in his favor, as well as from my knowledge of the intelligence of the voters of New Hampshire, I predict the election of Clarence E. Carr as Governor, and with him an unusually large number of Democratic senators and representatives in the next Legislature.

Ceylon Spiny has shown that he is a most efficient officer from his record as County Commissioner. He will make equally as good a sheriff. He is deserving and should get every Republican vote.

A HARD RECORD

Something that America Can Not boast of Comparison of the railroad casualty reports of the United States and Great Britain is not creditable to this country. Only one person in every thousand passengers on British railroads was killed last year, and but one in every 2,000 was injured. According to the last report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, one person was killed for every 2,249,991 carried on American railroads, and one injured in every 54,375 carried. The total number of casualties on British railroads last year was but 99, but the American records show 108,524 persons killed or injured, over three per cent of the American victims were employees of the railroads. The strict enforcement of the safety appliances law which has been undertaken by the interstate commission is needed.

HELD FOR AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

Domenico Pasquale di Avella, who was arrested here on Friday for assault with a knife on another Italian at Dover, was taken back to Dover on Saturday forenoon and given a summons by Judge Frost.

He was charged with an assault of an aggravated nature on Vito Lo Castro at the Elbow plant at Dover, Oct. 22. He pleaded not guilty, but in the testimony of the man stabbed and the time keeper on the job he was held to $200 bonds for the trial court.

The trials of St. Marcellino, G. M. Chase, and others, will give in the best singer, Wednesday evening, Nov. 4 from six to nine o'clock at night.

Admission fifteen cents.

LAW OF THE WAREHOUSE.

Great and Growing Factor in Price of Commodities.

One result of the fall of staple prices, such as cotton, wool and other perishables, which require storage, is to increase the volume of warehousing business. High prices had rising prices lower the stocks and reduce the demand for warehousing space.

As soon, however, as prices begin to yield the warehousing problem becomes more acute as it approaches the point at which the producers of staples or the manufacturers of staple goods feel that the market value at which they may dispose of their stocks is below what they should properly have under existing conditions of production.

The result is, as the demand for warehouse room increases and a larger quantity of goods is conserved in hope of improvement, this becomes one of the very influences to depress prices still further. For the buyer, knowing of the existence of these stocks, is just so much easier to convince that lower prices are necessary.

It is a well-known law of the warehousing business that when the sellers' estimate of the market is too much above the buyers' to effect sales, the burden of the market falls on the warehouses, yet the final cost weight rests rather on the banks or firms whom advances on warehousing certificates as collateral are frequently made, sometimes with altogether too little knowledge of the actual value of things on which the loans are granted.

In accordance with this general principle warehousing is now likely to figure considerably in the wool and the cotton trade. The territorial wool growers have already arranged to warehouse large stocks at Minneapolis and St. Paul. No doubt St. Louis, another storage center, will participate in this tendency until the wool industry reaches a more decisive status. Furthermore, the cotton warehousing movement is likely to grow in influence on price, especially if they fall materially below that at which cotton is now sold.

Maintain Invention Departments.

Every great manufacturing concern maintains under one name or another, an "Invention Department." Every invention made is assigned to the company "in consideration of salary and one dollar." The General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., for example, employs about 1,000 hundred men who devote much of their time to developing new ideas. Expenses $2,500,000 a year. Uncle Sam's example, the National Cash Register Company, the H. P. Company, the United States Manufacturing Company, the Bell Telephone Company, and many others have such a corps of men, who have developed the inventive faculty, at work in safety. The General Electric Company offers a typical example of the use of the inventions department. In a recent statement made by Dr. Charles E. Carr as Governor, and with him an unusually large number of Democratic senators and representatives in the next Legislature,

"Controlling bank notes is more difficult than holding spurious coins, but after a man has been successful with silver pieces he takes up the other, and with steady and perseverance can turn off a few bills. However, these makers of bad money never last long. They are run to earth sooner or later, then comes their realization of the error they have been involved in. The government is a cautious enemy, and the punishment for making spurious money is severe, but the wrongdoers never recall this until they are fairly caught."

"I can do better than that fellow did, and those dubitantes could never have caught me in the trap they laid for me," is the way the amateur controls her money. He figures it all out to his own satisfaction, but he fails to give the man in Uncle Sam's service credit for any brains or originality of thought. He thinks that they work the same way on every case, and that all he has to do is to observe the pitfalls that the other men fall into and be careful not to walk into them himself."

"This point settled, the dubious victim of the get rich quick crew has only a few more steps to take. The first thing that he does, generally, is to manufacture some high grade dies of plaster of Paris. They are crude molds of silver pieces, and so our dodged friend experiments a little by pouring pure lead into these casts, and to his surprise and delight he turns out a few pieces of metal which bear a resemblance to money."

Pleasant Outdoor Furnishings.

To furnish a veranda to the best advantage for living purposes furniture should be utilized that can withstand the weather and hard usage. Several large easy chairs, a settee furnished with cushion or dealing cover cushions, and hammocks are essential.

Bamboo screens or awnings will add materially to the comfort of the veranda equipment; a swinging couch is a luxurious addition that will be greatly appreciated. Such a couch may be home made, only length and depth and a wealth of pillows being necessary for comfort. It may be supplied with a home made full length pad or a number of pillows.

It is a fancy of the moment to have summer porch pillows filled with pine or balata needles, hops or olives. Husks from green corn are saved, and with some henna, saffron, geranium, lavender or other leaves to give fragrance, make particularly nice pillow fillings. Lacking better filling, Irish tan paper with any sweet scented leaves intermixed make acceptable filling for porch pillows.

Parts Underground.

Paris underground railways now open for traffic have a length of 22 miles, out of a total authorized of 57 miles, work being in progress on all lines which are not yet in operation. The Metropolitan scheme includes two sets of rails parallel to the Seine, and serving the tracks in the central portions of the city, a circular line surrounding the city, and situated between the central quarter and the fortifications, connecting somewhat the position of the outer boulevards; and, lastly, two transverse lines at right angles to the course of the river. The plan of this system now in operation carries an average of 350,000 passengers daily. The other concern, called the North and South Railway, crosses Paris transversely from north to south, and has a total length of about seven miles.

Please, Rats and Debts.

It has long been known that rats are an important cause of the spread of plague, but more recent researches tend to indicate that fleas serve as an intermediate link in conveying the disease from rats to man. According to the observations and conclusions of Simeon, infection of plague from one human being to another takes place, but in an insignificant number of cases compared with those where fleas carry the infection from rat to man. The recent experiments of the plague commission at Boulogne have established the fact that fleas convey the plague from infected to healthy rats, and it has been shown that the species of flea concerned is always found in plague-infested houses.

Medical science therefore declares war upon fleas as upon mosquitoes, and the mystery of epidemics is proportionately cleared up. Yet much remains to be learned.

SPURIOUS COIN IS A LURE.

Psychology of Counterfeiting Is a Puzzo to Federal Authorities.

"Like the fly which lights on paper carefully smeared with molasses for his benefit, the man who lets his thoughts dwell upon ' queer' money is caught bird and fast, unless he gets the idea out of his head as soon as it enters." That is the psychology of counterfeiting, as explained by Captain Thomas J. Porter, of the United States Secret Service.

As a further illustration of the theory, Captain Porter reverted to the case of the Rev. James B. Kaye, the Oak Park minister, convicted of making an egg.

"Men who counterfeit want to get quickly," explained Captain Porter. "It is funny, though, how the game attracts a man who is otherwise honest. The man who is attracted at first by the prospect of making money easily in this way

"He simply says to himself that he will make a few thousand dollars of spurious money and then stop it out in a safe way. He argues with himself that the money will be accepted by everyone, and that it really is the same as the money stamped as legal tender by the government, and only the government will lose."

"He begins to read about counterfeiting, and the more he reads the easier the thing seems. Ten to one he has a taste for mechanics and any man with a simple knowledge of metals, if he has the proper dies, can turn out a pretty fair representation of a dollar or other silver coin."

"Most of the old time counterfeiters have gone out of business or are serving terms in penitentiaries, and the spurious coins made at the present time are manufactured by men who are respected in the communities in which they live.

"Counterfeiting bank notes is more difficult than making spurious coins, but after a man has been successful with silver pieces he takes up the other, and with steady and perseverance can turn off a few bills. However, these makers of bad money never last long. They are run to earth sooner or later, then comes their realization of the error they have been involved in. The government is a cautious enemy, and the punishment for making spurious money is severe, but the wrongdoers never recall this until they are fairly caught."

"I can do better than that fellow did, and those dubitantes could never have caught me in the trap they laid for me," is the way the amateur controls her money. Variety in Country Fishing.

I am sorry for the man or woman who finds difficulty in killing time in the country, says a fisherman. A week is nothing and we can accomplish nothing of importance.

The most important event is the occasional capture of an unusually large trout. There are big ones here. Be sure of that. I have reliable information of one which has been taken not far away which is said to be full two feet long. If so, it will weigh full five pounds.

Thinking of that, my boy! Drop that everlasting busness and come and catch them or him. Even if you kill nothing, you will be happy, and you will be sure to catch something. At least, I always do, and must say that it is somewhat disappointing to find that one has a big leather mouth instead of a large golden trout.

Yet the so-called chub is something of a game fish. He flies at the fly and can put up a good fight. The largest I ever killed was eighteen inches long, but I have heard of them up to twenty-two inches, and weighing three pounds. When I cannot take trout I will catch chub.

INFLUENCE OF THE MULLAHS.

No One Dares Lay Sacrilegious Finger Upon Their Persons.

Ever since the beginning of the now constant troubles in India a good deal has been heard about the mullahs.

A mullah, or as it is more properly written, mollah, is a title given in India and throughout the East generally to a religious leader of any description.

Thus the Sultan of Turkey is a mullah, because he is the supreme head of the Moslem world. The hostile Somali leader who caused us so much anxiety between 1901 and 1905, and whose name occasionally crops up even now in the daily papers was also a mullah. And there are hundreds of others.

To the most of the more considerate among them we prefix the adjective "holy." This, however, must not be taken to mean that they are saints, the word being used rather in its Oriental sense of "the inspired."

The influence wielded by the mullahs who are now stirring up the border tribes of Afghanistan is enormous. clad in their sacred robes, bearing aloft the green standard of Islam, they go up and down the valleys shrilling the Mohammedan war cry, and we bethink ourselves to heed.

The presence of the mullah is sacred. True, the Amir the other day was reported to have ordered that any of them caught preaching the Jewish (holy war) should have their tongues torn out. But if he really issued such an edict which is extremely doubtful—it was merely meant for European ears. Not even the mighty Hadjibullah himself would care to lay sacrilegious fingers on one of these saintly personages. If he were to venture such an imputation of thine vengeance would surely overtake him. For it is the cardinal principle of the Umma—that the mullahs are collectively termed—that an injury purposely caused to one of their number can only be atoned for by the death of the individual inflicting it.

We Are Growing Younger.

We are a younger people than we were fifty years ago. The proportion of babies to the total population has increased. The proportion of minors has increased. The proportion of old age has diminished. So says the United States census of 1900. Of the babies that are born, three now reach the age of five for every two that reached it fifty years ago. Infant mortality has diminished but old age mortality has increased. Since 1890 the increase of the death rate from 60 to 64, 4 per cent; from 65 to 69, 6 per cent; from 70 to 74, 10 per cent; from 75 to 79, 7 per cent; from 80 to 84, 15 per cent; from 85 to 89, 12 per cent; from 90 to 94, 30 per cent; from 95 up, 20 per cent. That is the record that Dr. John V. Shoemaker gives from the census of 1890, and corrects by later information secured from Washington. So we died earlier than our grandparents did. The reason suggested for it is that a large proportion of weaklings survive infancy and that life is more vigorous, and the nervous strain of it greater than it is to us.

In preparing this formula it is essential to use only the best quality of glycerine and Whiskey with the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure. The latter preparation is a combination of the active principles of the Pine and Sandalwood trees, carefully compounded to retain the heating, health-giving properties, for which these trees are justly famous. In order to insure its purity and freshness it is securely sealed in a round wooden case. The genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure is prepared only in the laboratories of the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O.

"Happy months" is the name applied to the little mince pies made at Christmas time throughout England and served to any guests who may call at the house during the holidays. The saying is that for every one of these they pies one eats a happy month will come during the year, only the pies must be given to the one who eats them.

THE WEATHER

It was good freezing weather this morning with the mercury standing at twenty to twenty-four above zero, according to location.

A good wind has been blowing all day, and the chillness has caused about the last person to make the annual change to winter clothing.

The temperature rose to forty-two in the dead wind at two o'clock while in sunny spots protected against the wind it rose to sixty degrees or more.

The United States weather bureau tells us that tomorrow will be fair and cold.

NEW COMMANDER

Adjutant Mary Radcliffe to Come from Bath

Capt. Robert B. Evans to Go from the Portsmouth Corps to Rochester

Captain Robert B. Evans farewelled at Sunday night's meeting of the Portsmouth corps of the Salvation Army. Captain Evans came to this post from Augusta, Me., last February and has made a good record here.

His assistant, Charles E. Quinby, a delicate lad for the work, will go to Rochester with him. They will move on Tuesday.

It is not known where Cap. Blyens will go from Rochester.

Adjutant Mary Radcliffe will arrive on Tuesday from Bath, Me., to take command of the Portsmouth post. It is not yet known who will be her assistant.

The commander of the Portsmouth post is expected to extend his work from York Beach, Me., to Hampton Beach and Exeter, N. H. The commander at Rochester also has the oversight of Salvation Army work in Dover, Somersworth, Salmon Falls, Milton and Farmington, N. H., and South Berwick, Me.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE

Harbor Improvements

In view of the agitation which the Harbor Association is making for improvements in our harbor, the following extract from the Coast Survey's Journal of San Francisco may be interesting.

"At the coming election the citizens of California will vote upon a proposition to increase the facilities of San Francisco harbor. The legislature in 1907 passed an act providing for the issuance of bonds in the sum of $1,000,000 for the purchase of certain submerged lands which it is estimated will provide a dock space equal to the total of existing facilities. It remains for the people to approve the proposed bond issue."

The following statement set forth in just the argument in favor of the bond issue:

"Commerce allows the flag with half the persistency that it follows harbor improvements."

"Wherever a community with deep water facilities has failed to keep up with the economic development of its back country or the requirements of modern sea-going vessels, which are ever increasing in size and tonnage, that community has a hard time to maintain its place. San Francisco's chief difficulty lies in its proximity and utterly inadequate harbor. In natural requirements it is far superior to either Seattle or Prince Rupert. But no harbor, in the modern application of that term, that is nothing to recommend it but natural resources, is a harbor. Large ships lay idle in the stream because there are no wharves to accommodate them. It is hard to lure captains, owners and shippers to a port if it is doubly hard to turn them back again if they have once been put to inconvenience and loss."

"A reputation of lack of wharf room is hard to overcome. The fall of a port to second or third place is rapid."

The state of New Hampshire should help to improve Portsmouth harbor and encourage commerce to seek this port, for with commerce would come manufacturers, agriculture would be encouraged and the whole state would be benefited directly.

The principal business of our port (outside of the navy yard) is the handling of coal which is sent to Manchester and the upper part of the state. And yet if we had proper facilities cotton for the mills at Manchester, Dover and Newmarket could be brought here as well as to Boston.

The state of Massachusetts has built the Hoosac docks and the Commonwealth wharf. And the city of Newark, N. J., has commenced to dig a harbor out of the salt marsh big enough for the largest ships that sail.

If the state of New Hampshire or the Boston and Maine railroad would build a suitable dock and elevator here it would not be long before the Montreal and other lines of steamers would be glad to take advantage of our harbor because goods can be shipped from here to Boston. New

AMESBURY MEN SUSPECTED

Police Think They Set the Big Fire at Salisbury Beach

Clue after clue has been followed by the Massachusetts police who have been working up the Salisbury Beach fire case. The most promising clue to the dredges lead them to Amesbury.

It is said that two Amesbury young men were at the beach the morning the fire started, and they have been unable to explain their presence there in a manner satisfactory to the authorities.

It is understood that some of the insurance companies have already commenced to cancel policies which are now in existence, refusing to carry them longer. Thus some property owners who were fortunate enough to escape the recent fire will find themselves up against a relative to insure hereafter.
